2026 Event Partner Packet

Introduction

An Invitation to Partner with Jeremiah's Promise

Dear Community Partner,

This holiday season, Jeremiah's Promise invites you to be part of something both joyful and deeply meaningful: our newly revitalized 3rd Annual Festival of Trees: Gifts That Give Back.

This year's Festival has been thoughtfully reimagined to create an experience that better serves our local community while offering businesses, organizations, and individuals more meaningful ways to participate. Through festive family experiences, local vendors, beautifully decorated trees, live entertainment, and opportunities to give back, the Festival of Trees will bring our community together to celebrate the season while investing in families who need hope and support.

At Jeremiah's Promise Neurodevelopmental Learning Center, we serve children, individuals, and families navigating autism, developmental differences, mental health needs, and other brain-based challenges. Early identification and effective, relationship-centered support can change the course of a life—but too many families in our rural communities struggle to access the services they need.

The Festival of Trees helps bridge that gap.

We hope you will consider joining us as an Event Partner. Whether through sponsorship, an in-kind contribution, or another form of support, your partnership will help expand access to life-changing care while demonstrating your commitment to the children and families who call South Georgia home.

Together, we can create a memorable holiday experience—and extend hope far beyond the season.

Warmly,

Vanessa Smith
Founder & CEO
Jeremiah's Promise Neurodevelopmental Learning Center

It helps Jeremiah's Promise provide specialized, relationship-centered services to children and families navigating autism, developmental differences, mental health needs, and other brain-based challenges—right here in our rural South Georgia community.

Every sponsorship, donation, and in-kind contribution helps remove barriers to care, equip our learning environment, and give families greater access to the resources and support they need. Your partnership helps us meet immediate needs today while building a stronger, more sustainable future for the individuals and families we serve.

See Your Impact

- $500 provides much needed resources and support our children need to learn and thrive.
- $1,000 equips our team with the data and tools needed to measure growth and guide a child's journey.

11. Property Damage

The Sponsor assumes responsibility and financial liability for damage caused by the Sponsor or its representatives to Eagle Station, Jeremiah's Promise property, event equipment, or the property of another participant. Payment of a sponsorship commitment or booth-related fee does not release the Sponsor from responsibility for repair, replacement, cleaning, or other costs arising from such damage.
